What's happening now in the Lehigh Valley arts scene? A series of exhibitions called NOW at Allentown's hottest new venue, the Cigar Factory. Gregory Coates and Kiki Nienaber of Fuse Art Infrastructure curate international and local artists, filling the enticing studio spaces with cutting-edge art each third Thursday of the month. The series runs through December 19th, 2013. The October event featured seventeen artists and musical experimentation by New York-based, Three Legends of Art + Sound. A new Cigar Factory tenant, The Alternative Galley, recently moved into a great street-level space. Check it out now.
